Boys Involved In River Town Burglaries Sent to Huntingdon And Morganza Institutions—They Admit Their Guilt

HILEMAN STORE ROBBED

Boys Captured In Monongahela —One Lives In Monongahela, One In Bentleyville, While the Third Hails From Steubenville, Ohio

John Hillman, John Mistrangle, and Fred Prosper, 18-year-old boys, who robbed the store of E. E. Hileman of this place, "pulled off" one or more jobs in the state of Ohio, and were guilty of robberies, stores and residences in the city of Monongahela, and arrested recently in Monongahela, went before the court yesterday and admitted their guilt. Hillman was committed by Judge Erwin Cummins to the Pennsylvania Industrial school at Huntingdon. The other two were sent to the Western Pennsylvania Training school at Morganza The youths live in Monongahela, Bentleyville and Steubenville, Ohio.

After robbing the store of E. E. Hileman of Charleroi, they evidently went to Monongahela, for it was in that city that their capture was effected at the home of the grandmother of one of the lads. They did not get loot of much value in their efforts here.

Judge Cummins told the boys, and told them forcibly, that they were rather young to be starting on a career of crime, whose end was ignominy, in that if they persisted in the course they were taking, they would probably end in the electric chair. He told them that when they were men they could be sent up for the crimes to which they confessed that they had committed, for a term of forty years.

It is said that the Monongahela lad and the Bentleyville boy became associated with the Steubenville, Ohio, youth when they went to Ohio. That they decided to join forces. One report is to the effect that they were guilty of robbery in the state of West Virginia.

The recent announcement that the borough of North Charleroi would have a "clean-up week," has already met with favor by many, inasmuch as the borough has never, as a whole, enjoyed the distinction of having a real officially authorized "clean-up week."

The date set is May 5 to 10 inclusive. The Health department, in conjunction with the street committee of the borough, ask that all parties assemble all refuse matter conveniently for removal by the garbage collector. The same rates for collecting and disposing of all refuse matter will exist as heretofore, and the collecting will be done promptly each day during the week, and will be under the supervision of the health office.

Concessions will be made to parties having accumulated ashes in piles during the winter; the same may be scattered on back alleys and in low places.

Manure disposal will be adhered to in accordance with ordinances governing the same.

It is no more than right and proper that all good citizens should join heartily in this movement in order to insure good health, sanitation, and a clean town. Special attention should be given to cellars and back yards, which need the same attention as the living rooms.

SALACIOUS CASE TONIGHT BEFORE ACTING BURGESS

Fearing for her life, Mrs. Martha J. Scull, aged 21, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hess, of Roscoe, went to the local police station last night and reported that Leonard Pegg, alias C. L. Povette, aged 35, wellknown questionable character of Charleroi, had made repeated threats against her life because of jealousy, it is thought. Chief of Police James A. Murphy immediately sought the man and placed him under arrest as a suspicious character. Since then it has been learned that he is wanted for the theft of an outfit of paperhanging tools, the property of Sam Freeman, local business man, for whom he has been working for the past few months. Pegg has recently returned from the Western Penitentiary, where he was sent up for a year, charged with passing bad checks.

This morning the police placed the girl under arrest, after it had been learned that she had been living with Pegg as man and wife in a local hotel for the past three weeks and they are in debt for the sum of their bill at the hotel.

For the past week the couple have quarreling because she went out driving with another man, and Pegg, during one of the arguments, pointed a revolver at the girl. The girl has lived in constant fear of the man since and in order to bring an end to his threats, reported Pegg to the police.

They will have a hearing before Acting Burgess J. Bryant Tussing this evening, the man charged with larceny and the girl will be charged with adultery.

Big Fires Damage The Pittsburgh Business Section To Amount of $100,000

Pittsburgh, April 15—(United Press)—Two fires in the business section of Pittsburgh early today caused damage estimated at $100.000.

Several firemen were hurt, and two buildings, a five-story building occupied by the Penn Candy company, and Sailor, Close and Johns Furniture Manufacturing company, and a six-story brick building, occupied by Hoffman and Meyers company, paper box factory, were destroyed in a blaze which for some time threatened to wipe out the entire block from Seventh avenue to Grant and to Cherry streets.

Four fire alarms were turned in and the firemen fought the blaze for hours before they got it under control.

While the Seventh avenue fire was at its height, a policeman discovered flames rolling through buildings on Third avenue and Cherry street. Three alarms were sounded from the second fire, calling nearly all the fire apparatus out in the city.

One fireman was injured in the Third avenue blaze and damage was estimated at this fire of $50,000.

BOGUS COLLECTOR THOUGHT ARRESTED

Following an investigation by Chief of Police S. S. Burnsworth of Monongahela and a partial identification of William Hunter, who was arrested on a technical charge by Officer Ford, of the police department of the city named on Saturday evening the police believe they may have apprehended the man who impersonated a deputy income tax collector and is believed to have secured considerable money from residents of Gallatin, Webster and Manown.

He is a Hungarian and it is thought the name which he gave is a false one. Hunter answers the description of the wanted man. Officer Ford noticed Hunter standing along Second street in Monongahela and as the man answered the description of the supposed income tax collector, the officer approached Hunter and was about to place him under arrest as a suspicious person when Hunter took flight, running down Second street to the railroad where the officer overtook him. When searched it was found he was toting a 32 calibre automatic revolver and a deputy sheriff's badge of Bedford county. Hunter was unable to explain to the satisfaction of the court his reason for having the gun and badge on his person and he was placed in the lockup. Yesterday a woman who had paid the false collector the sum of $24 and received a receipt for the same was called to the police station and the suspect was brought before her for identification. She stated the man resembled the supposed tax collector, but she could not establish a complete identification. Hunter was questioned further and stated he was a crew manager for the Roma Oil Portrait company, of Pittsburgh, until a few weeks ago. His explanation of what he had been doing since that time in this district was not satisfactory to the police and he is being held for further investigation.

Information just received, authentic, is that Hunter is as he represents himself as to vocation, but at the hearing he was held for court on the charge of carrying concealed weapons and impersonating an officer; he was not proven as the bogus collector.

DEMOCRATS PROPOSE OUTRIGHT CASH BONUS

Washington, April 15—(United Press)—Democrats laid their bonus plan before the Senate today proposing an outright cash bonus, which they claim will cost only half as much as the Republican "insurance policy" bill.

Senator Curtis presented the Republican bill from the finance committee thus formally opening the way for action tomorrow.

His bill, which will be given the right of way in the senate under an agreement among Republican members of the committee, provides a twenty-year endowment insurance policy instead of actual money.

The Democrats then presented their bill which would give $1 for every day of service after the first sixty days and in amounts up to $500.

The money for the Democratic bonus would be raised by a [illegible] bond issue. Experts say only $1,500,000,000 would be necessary for the project. Republicans say theirs will cost $3,680,000,000.

Under the Democratic scheme the bonds would bear five per cent interest and would be retired within sixty years with redemptions of not more than $25,000,000 yearly.

Senator Royal S. Copeland, of New York, who drew the Democratic bill believes there are enough votes on the Republican side to help put the cash measures over.

Copeland thinks veterans will be more pleased with a cash payment instead of an insurance policy, and that the public will be better pleased because only half the sum would be spent for his bill, in comparison with the Republican bill.

The tax bill rest upon the senate calendar until after some bonus bill is passed.

Chairman Smoot, who is in charge of the bonus, believe it would be disposed of within ten days.

Harry Fay of Charleroi Scores Clean Knock-Out Over Old Rival at Louisville

In a fight that was scheduled to go fifteen rounds, Harry "Bull" Fay of Charleroi scored a clean cut knockout over George Berotta of New Castle at Louisville last night in the 12th round of the hard fought battle. The blow that ended the battle was a terrific left hook to the jaw.

The Mail received the following telegram from Charles Jones, Fay's manager, today:

Louisville, Ky., April 14.

Harry Fay knocked out George Berotta with a terrific left hook to the jaw in the 12th round here tonight. It was Fay's fight all the way.

Charlie Jones, Manager.

Fay, who is a protege of the Hill Top Athletic club and scarcely over 20 years of age, has met Berotta, of New Castle, who is a hard fighter, three times in his short professional career. The first fight between Fay and Berotta was last Labor day when the two met in Wheeling and Fay scored a knockout punch.

On March 25, the fighters were again matched to try and even scores, this time the fight taking place in New Castle, the home of George Berotta. After a hard fought battle, the judges were unable to give a decision and the matter turned over to the referee who decided in favor of the New Castle boy.

Since that time Fay has been waiting a chance to show the fight fans who was the better man, and he proved himself so last night when he won a decided victory.

Stribling Stops McEwan-- Gives Him Bad Beating

William L. (Young) Stribling, Macon, Ga., light-heavyweight, last night scored a technical knockout against Tex McEwan of Canada in the seventh round of their scheduled 10-round bout in Philadelphia. Referee Lew Bailey stopped the fight to save McEwan from further punischment.

Stribling gave McEwan a severe beating. Taking the offensive at the opening gong, the Georgia youth hammered and pounded his opponent nearly at will. McEwan fought gamely, but was no match for Stribling, and was saved by the bell from a possible knockout in the fourth and fifth rounds.

YOUNG STRIBLING AND "MA"

William L. (Young) Stribling, Georgia's schoolboy ringman, battered his way to a spectacular victory March 31st over Mike McTigue, world light heavyweight champion. He came within an ace of knocking out McTigue in the tenth round. Newspaper men declared he easily whipped the champion in their no-decision match. In the picture "Ma" Stribling is shown carefully bandaging the young fighter's hands.

As for Evelyn she sat with downcast eyes, paying no attention to her former husband, but listening intently while her counsel questioned an alienist regarding Thaw's strange performances in the years since he married her, and killed Stanford White for her sake.

NATTONAL LEAGUE	AMERICAN LEAGUE
Pittsburgh at Cincinnati	New York at Boston
Brooklyn at New York	St. Louis at Chicago
Boston at Philadelphia	Philadelphia at Washington
Chicago at St. Louis	Cleveland at Detroit

New York, April 15. — (United Press).—The old bark of the umpires, the chatter of the coachers and the patter of brass bands echoed far and wide today as baseball returned for another long run in the National and American leagues and the American association.

The lid-tilting, curtain-raising, and spotlight-focusing will follow the established lines, with leading citizens firing out the first ball, with bands playing and with umpires chanting their long familiar cries,.

The National league will get away with Brooklyn at New York; Boston at Philadelphia; Chicago at St. Louis and Pittsburgh at Cincinnati.

The American league will open with New York at Boston; Philadelphia at Washington; Cleveland at Detroit; and St. Louis at Chicago.

Officials and club owners of the big leagues have reason to expect another season "bigger and better than ever." Interest is just as intense in the game, the competition should be keener in the two big pennant races and the demand for tickets to the opening games indicated a large year.

New York, April 15—(United Press)—Ideal weather here today greeted the opening of the National League season with champion Giants playing the Brooklyn Robins at the Polo Grounds.

The sun came out early in a clear sky, and although it was rather cool, it was ideal baseball weather for the players and fans.

Advance sale of tickets indicated that a crowd of at least 45,000 would see the first game. Bill Ryan probably will be called upon to pitch for the Giants and Dutch Reuther was expected to get the call from Brooklyn.

Mayor John F. Hylan was booked to toss out the first ball.

Philadelphia, April 15—The National League baseball race is scheduled to get under way here this afternoon when the Phillies and the Boston Braves stage the initial battle. The Phillies park has been put in the pink of condition and if the present rainy looking clouds can be blased away a great game is expected.

Hopes of the local fans are pinned on Jimmy Ring, who is scheduled to do the hurling for the Fletcher men. Dutch Henline is slated to do the receiving.

Mayor Kendrick will throw the first ball and upwards of 20,000 fans are expected to be on hand to see the ceremony and the main attraction following.

Interest in the two pennant races will be centered principally in the attempt of the two New York clubs to make a new record by winning four championships in a row. No team in modern days has been able to win more than three successive pennants. The New York Yankees have been picked by practically all of the experts as a heavy favorite in the American League pennant race, with the Cleveland Indians and the Detroit Tigers as the chief contenders.

Opinion is divided about the national League race. Some critics favor the strong Cincinnati Reds while others believe that the Giants have picked up enough pitching to stay with their own in the race.

Both leagues have been changed greatly since the season closed last fall. There are many new managers,

First Military Execution in U. S.

A conspiracy of the British officers and loyalists of New York was made in 1776 to end the Revolutionary war by the murder or capture of its leaders, and the seizure or destruction of its supplies. Washington was to be taken alive and delivered to Sir William Howe. Two guards were bribed, but a third pretended to join the plot and exposed it instead. One of the treacherous guards was named Thomas Hickey. He was hanged June 27, 1776, the first military execution in the American army.

Edmond Hoyle lived from 1672 to 1769. Little is known of his early life. It is thought that he was educated for the law. He lived in London for many years, where he taught games. In 1742 he published "A Short Treatise on the Game of Whist," which went through many editions and became the world's authority. Other games have been added, until "Hoyle" has grown to mean "a ser of rules" and includes many games that have been invented since Edmond Hoyle's death.

Hawaii is saving lives and property by the use of earthquake records. When a violent earthquake appearing to have occurred in the Pacific ocean is registered at the Hawaiian observatory, warnings are dispatched to regions likely to be damaged by the tidal waves which frequently follow earth shocks. Blood Stain Lasts Ages.

How long will a blood stain last? A British scientist has discovered the fossil remains of a mammoth buried untold ages ago. The sand under the fossil was stained black and was cemented together with iron, forming a dark patch which did not extend far beyond the limits of the bone. He suggests that the stain was due to iron in blood which oozed out of the meat and bone of the defunct mammoth.

Origin of Name Gotham.

"Gotham" was the name of a town in Nottinghamshire, England, the inhabitants of which, about 1200, were ridiculed for simplicity and short-sightedness, and were later termed in derision "the wise men of Gotham." Washington Irving, in the Salmagundi papers, applies the name "Gotham" to New York, satirizing the short-sightedness of many of the inhabitants.

Domestic science experts say,

"Cream of Tartar baking powder is the best"

Recently a representative group of Domestic Science experts in all parts of the country was asked "which type of baking powder do you use and prefer?" 83% unhesitatingly replied "Cream of Tartar." An overwhelming sentiment in favor of cream of tartar for perfect baking.

Cream of tartar was one of the first leavening agents to be used in baking. For years the best cooks insisted on cream of tartar for perfect cakes, biscuits and other baked foods. Then came Royal Baking Powder, in which are perfectly blended soda and pure cream of tartar derived from grapes grown in the famous vineyards of Southern Europe. For 50 years Royal Baking Powder has been used by the housewives of America for successful baking.

More Soft Wood Trees Are Now Being Planted

The people of the United States consume twice as much softwood lumber as they do hardwood lumber, according to the New York state college of forestry at Syracuse university. The softwoods are cut off more rapidly because of their better adaptability to man's needs and their lighter weight.

The pines, hemlocks and spruces float easily and this facilitates transportation to the mills. They are hauled by bobsleds or sent by flume or chute to a stream or lake and floated to the mills. Maples, beeches and birches will very often sink, which necessitates artificial means of transportation such as motortrucks, tractors and railroads, or expensive rafting. Even where such costly transport is required for softwoods the greater value of the product has made lumbering profitable. But with hardwood this type of logging is too expensive except where the hardwoods are especially fine and the demand is good with a near market.

The dwindling supply of softwood timber is making it more profitable to plant evergreen trees than ever before, says the college. Today many hardwood forests and farm woodlots are being converted to the more valuable softwoods. It often pays on such woodlots to girdle unmerchantable hardwood trees so the undergrowth of softwoods that have been artificially planted by the shade of their older hardwoods. By cutting the bark around the hardwood trees, their foliage will disappear and the trees will die, thus allowing enough light to fall upon the young softwoods to give them their natural rate of growth. In the average forest such elimination of hardwoods allows the coniferous or softwood species to take on additional volume of about one-fourth cord annually for twenty-five to thirty years, depending upon their age. This increase in growth will offset the expense of girdling and keep the forest on a profitable basis.

History mentions talking machines as early as the Thirteenth century. In 1762 Rev. John Wesley states in his diary, he saw at Lurgan, Ireland, a clock with an automaton of an old man, which, every time the clock struck, opened the door with one hand, drew back the curtain with the other, turned his head and then said in a loud, articulate voice: "Past 1, 2, 3," and so on. The inventor, a man named Miller, told Wesley that he had made many successful experiments and could make a man who could talk and sing hymns, but he was too busy on other work. In 1783 Abbe Mical presented to the French Academy of Sciences an invention that talked, but he later broke it up, having religious scruples. In 1877 Edison brought out his first talking machine, which, by the way, was first displayed in Paris.

"Finally I spotted a pair of shoes and a silk shirt that I thought belonged to my husband, and while the barber turned away for a moment I went to the chair, took the hand of my suspected husband, squeezed it and—imagine how I felt when a corner of the towel lifted and an amazed face I had never seen before stared at me blankly!"

Mannington, West Virginia.—"I took the Vegetable Compound when having the turn of life. I had been sick for seven years. I would get a little better, then I broke down again. It would be hard for me to describe how I was, for I was a perfect wreck. I suffered with a pain in my left side, then I would have numb spells and I would think I couldn't live. I would have hot flashes, then would come weak spells. I was so weak I would think I couldn't ever get a meal ready. My work was a burden to me. I was not able to do my housework half of the time. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has given me strength and health. The hot flashes left me and I got better of the numb spells. That summer I could do my housework and worked in the garden a good bit. I tell all sick women what your wonderful medicine did for me, and will always recommend it. I was born in Marion County and still live in it. I am known to all my neighbors, and you can publish this statement because it is true."—Mrs. John W. Walsh, R. STOCKS AND BONDS.

Hon. James T. Heffran, secretary of the Charleroi Chamber of Commerce, has the list on file of those who have been refused permission to sell stocks and bonds by State Banking Commissioner Cameron. Application must be made through Mr. Cameron. The Act in accordance was passed at the last session of the legislature.

People who are imbued with the desire to speculate have at least two safe avenues open to them. One is to consult the list which Mr. Heffran has on file at his office in the Municipal Building, Fifth street, Charleroi. The other is to consult the Charleroi bankers will no doubt be glad to inform the investor of the list of securities that are deemed and known, in the main, to be safe.

In the past there was a tendency, on the part of the public, to listen to the glib tongues of many securities salesmen, who have a penchant to make people think that "all is gold that glitters," when as a matter of fact "all that glitters is not gold." People have had cause to regret that they did not positively assure themselves that their investments were safe; but in these latter days folk are more cautious, with the result that public losses in investment regard have become minimized.

It is not to be presumed that people, as a usual thing, are posted on the stocks and bond market, and if they have money to invest in securities, see to it that it is safely placed.

AN ESSAY ON RELATIVES.

Rich kinfolks are prosperous relatives who give you advice and lend you money.

Poor kinfolks are provident relations who want to borrow money and refuse your advice. A man's wife's kinfolks are her relations to whom he is proving he is some account.

$400,000 MARK HAS BEEN PASSED

Totals announced by alumnae of Pennsylvania College for Women for their endowment and building fund campaign at the last report meeting show that the $400,000 mark has been passed. With the intensive period of the campaign completed, campaign managers announce that alumnae workers' demand that effort go on uninterruptedly until the goal of $1,500,000 has been reached, will be complied with.

The $400,000 total with the exception of approximately $30,000 represents the effort of alumnae workers and alumnae special gift committees. It represents an average subscription of $720 a piece for graduates of Pennsylvania College for Women. More than 1200 contributions have been received to date by the campaign treasurer, averaging approximately $260 per subscription. The individual share of alumnae is $305. All subscriptions are payable over a five year period.

In a bulletin issued recently by national campaign headquarters leaders of the endowment and building fund movement say:

"The Smith College Campaign, in which $4,000,000 was raised four years ago, was considered very successful. At that time Smith College made a per capita subscription of $500 per graduate as over against the above mentioned per capita contribution of P. C. W. graduates of $720. Smith College received in her four million fully a million dollars in special or late gifts. With the exception of two gifts of $25,000 each, P. C. W. has received no large gifts.

"Although there are a number of graduates and a still larger number of former students who have not yet subscribed anything, the above figures demonstrate that the response from the alumnae body has been splendid as regards both number of subscribers and average size of subscriptions. This should demonstrate to the people of Pittsburgh that those who have been students at the College value highly the service the College rendered them and have expressed their loyalty in terms of giving and working."

FOOT HEALTH TALKS

Foot Hygiene in the Public Schools

Many foot ailments date from childhood, and are the cause of headaches, backaches and inefficiency, to say the least. In this article Dr. Scholl, noted foot orthopedist, of Chicago describes the result of an examination of the feet of school children in New York City, and tells why the care of childrens' feet is no less important than the care of their eyes and teeth.

By William M. Scholl, M. D.

I venture to say that every orthopedist whose experience has brought him into contact with clinics where the feet of large numbers of children are examined is aware of the wide spread foot defectiveness in school children. Estimates based on this observation have almost invariably given large percentages of foot ailments among children.

However, the results of an examination in New York City shows that the estimates have almost invariably undershot the mark. They indicate that foot troubles are far more general among children than many have believed to be possible. They prove what we have long urged—that the time to begin the practice of foot hygiene is in infancy.

The examination was undertaken by Dr. Maurice J. Lewi with the co-operation of Dr. Josephine A. Baker, Chief of the Division of Hygiene, New York City Board of Health, and Dr. A. E. Aldinger, head of the Division of Physical Education, New York City Department of Education. Dr. Lewi [illegible] the Foot Clinics of New York City.

FROM HEAD TO FOOT—Little tots in one of the New York public schools being given an examination by a trained nurse.

[illegible] pupils were examined ranging from grammar school grade to the grade of teacher's training [illegible] foot which was 74 percent, 34 of the boys had [illegible] foot which was 71 percent. Among the teacher training classes representing older pupils 136, or 80 percent, had [illegible] defect, a defect of the [illegible] foot, was represented by 70 percent among the younger girls, and 6 percent among the training classes. 87 percent of the younger girls and 75 percent of those in the training school for teachers had faulty shoes. The stockings were represented by [illegible] 26 percent of the feet were [illegible] 0. 26 percent among the younger girls, and 73 percent among the pupils of the New York Training School for Teachers. Minor defects observed deformed toes. Of all pupils examined only 7 of the younger grade school pupils had a carriage which was termed "excellent."

It will generally be conceded that the high percentage of weak foot among these children bears a relation to the faulty fitting of shoes and a high percentage of faultily fitted shoes is also shown. [illegible] which is usually overlooked is that of stockings. From infancy onward many a foot has been started on the road to weakness and distortion by short, narrow-toed stockings. I am sorry to say that I have seen mothers crowd the stockings over the toes of their child's foot as though they were putting on a tightly fitting glove. Of course, this cramps the toes and restricts the free circulation; the little motions of the toes and foot which mean much in the development of the muscles of the lower limbs of the child should not be interfered with. Care should be used when the little one receives its first hard-soled shoes.

My own experience would lead me to believe that New York City [illegible] ness among school children. Foot troubles as is the case with many other human ailments, are frequently the result of years of unhygienic habits, carelessness, and ignorance. We find this everywhere.

Education is the remedy. I am convinced that with suitable education as to the anatomy and functioning of the foot, and foot hygiene, including proper shoe fitting, a large part of the ailments that afflict the feet of humanity will disappear. Although their cause may not be realized, early fatigue, tiredness, complaints of foot and leg weariness may originate in weakness and strain on the foot. The place to begin foot examinations and the teaching of preventive foot hygiene is in the school. I hope to see the day when school boards, teachers, and parent-teachers associations will be as attentive to the condition of the pupils' feet as they are of the teeth and eyes.

PRIZES AWARDED FOR SCOUTING ADVANCEMENT.

In order to stimulate the interest of the boys in passing the various requirements of Scouting and the local Council has voted to award prizes of merit for the first boy who attains First Class rank, Life Scout rank, or Eagle Scout rank. A number of boys are just about ready to enter First Class rank, thereby creating keen competition. The Life Scout rank requires the following merit badge subjects: Personal Health, Public Health, First Aid, Life Saving and Physical Development and will probably be attained during the coming year. The Eagle will hardly be attained until next year, since it necessitates 21 months service as well as First Class rank. Three years has been the accepted standard for the Eagle Scout rank, and judging by the progress the boys are making, Monongahela Valley council will easily come up to the standard.

ANNUAL COUNCIL DINNER.

Arrangements are being made for the annual Council Dinner to which all Councilmen in the four towns will be invited, including the Commissioners and Scoutmasters. The date set is Tuesday, April 22 in Monessen. The principal speaker for the occasion will be Major R. F. Seymour, Regional Executive. At this time a report of the financial record and the budget for next year will be made public as well as a report from Mr. Sterritt regarding the progress of Scouting in this valley. Another feature of the meeting will be the election of officers for the new year. About 80 people will be present to hear and take part in the program.

MONESSEN SCOUTS EXAMINED.

On Saturday, April 5, about 65 Monessen Scouts under the direction of Deputy Commissioner E. Ciriacy, and Commissioner E. F. Tests were given in Cooking, Tracking and Scout pace, as well as fire lighting in Second Class work.

The First Class test in judgment of height and distance was given by Mr. Ciriacy, while Executive Hall gave the cooking test which consisted of making twist bread, hunter's stew and cocoa. A large number of boys will now be ready to come before the

DAUGHTERS ARE EXPECTED TO HEED THE PRESIDENT

Washington, April 15. — (United Press).—Answering the appeal of President Coolidge, the Daughters of the American Revolution were expected to reaffirm previously expressed opposition to "radicals" and to government by blocs and minorities.

Mr. Coolidge last night, in one of the most impassioned speeches he had delivered since becoming president, told the Daughters it was their duty as well as that of all other citizens, to see that no minority was permitted to rule, no matter how active and well organized it might be.

The resolutions committee met today to embody the president's recommendations for an uncompromising Americanism in form for approval by the congress. Resolutions rebuking the group in Congress headed by Senator LaFollette; declaring that communism means anarchy; declaring for impartial and drastic law enforcement and for extension of Americanization and educational work will be presented.

Following the lead of Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook, president general, the committee is expected to take a stand against [illegible] will probably endorse merchant marine by ship subsidy.

A note of liberalism may creep into the convention's proceedings through Mrs. Robert Lansing, wife of the former secretary of state. Mrs. Lansing will make a report on foreign relations.

Because of the part her husband played in support of the league of nations, her committee is expected to return an endorsement of some type of world organization—if not the league at least a world court.

Mr. Coolidge told the D. A. R. last night that the hope of the republic against government by minorities and against unclean government was for every citizen, man and woman to vote with intelligence and upon information. He made an especially strong appeal to the women of the country, as represented in the D. A. R. congress to use their franchise.

GIRL'S PICTURE RESTORES LOVER

Philadelphia, April 15—(United Press)—The picture of his sweetheart destroyed memory to Joseph Smith, Freshman in the University of Pennsylvania who had been suffering a lapse of memory in which he did not recall his own name or recognize his friends.

Smith struck his head on the floor while wrestling and physicians were unable to fathom his strange affliction.

The picture of his 'girl' was put beside his bed. The next morning it was the first thing he saw. He recognized it immediately.
